2. Other: I have been to 2 of the Just Culture trainings by 2 different trainers. This has given me perspectives from both excellent trainers. I do have some feedback. Standardization of the slides and training is important when a facility such as mine has had different trainers. The examples and conversation were great and individualized to the experience of the instructors but the training themselves were quite different. One instructor focused on the Algorithm while the other really helped the group with the investigation piece and how to do a cause and effect investigation. I benefitted.
